

Project Manager

Job summary:

The Project Manager oversees projects from the time of sale through project execution in line with Shumaker's standards so that all clients enjoy exceptional service reflecting Shumaker's mission. In some cases, the Project Manager acts as the Account Manager for a job and is responsible for the sales process as well.

Duties and Responsibilities:

Create, revise and execute project work plans. Ensure all of the following are done in a timely manner based on the plans' timelines:

- Develop a comprehensive event plan for each confirmed job. If not the Account Manager ("AM"), collaborate with the sales team to fully understand all required elements.
- Develop schematics and work plans by identifying resources needed (equipment and personnel) and determining whether any of those resources will come from outside of the Company or will be built in-house.
- Ensure PPOs, RPOs and SPOs have been created for all third party equipment and services working with the Project Manager and Purchasing Specialist ("PMPS") as necessary. Confirm that they have been sent to vendors and that they are fulfilled coordinating and communicating with the warehouse throughout the process. If not the job's AM, ensure sales is coordinating these items and services.
- Relay requirements for items to be constructed by Technicians to the Crew Coordinator and the Staff Supervisor ("CCSS"), who will then assign the construction to Technicians, and follow up periodically to ensure the build is being done to specification.
- Communicate personnel needs and changes to the CCSS.
- Prepare pull sheets for the warehouse and ensure changes are communicated as well.
- Manage day-to-day operational aspects of a project ensuring jobs are moving along appropriately according to the timeline set, and that quality services are delivered efficiently, timely, cost effectively and safely.
- Resolve and/or escalate issues.
- If not the Project Lead on-site, communicate on-site plans to the Project Lead. If the Project Lead, communicate plans to the on-site team. In either case, maintain a focus on safety and service excellence.
- Review deliverables, e.g. seating charts, prepared by the team before passing them to the client.
- If not the Project Lead on-site, follow up as needed with the Project Lead during the load in, show call and strike, and follow up after the strike to ensure all went smoothly. If not the AM, relay the results to the sales team.
- If not the AM, notify sales of any quote changes to be made (either prior to the event or as a result of client approved changes during the event) working with sales to ensure the quote is properly adjusted. Otherwise, ensure quote changes are made prior to invoicing.
- Ensure project documents are complete and signed as required, current, and stored appropriately.

When not the Account Manager, support sales in the quoting process:

- Review complex quotes and provide information requested by sales prior to quotes being sent to clients.
- Assist in preparing some quotes (e.g., calling out equipment based on the concept).
- Complete project scoping and level of effort assessments during the quoting process.
